DNFSB Statement on President Biden’s nomination of Dr. Patricia Lee as a member of the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board

WASHINGTON, D.C. – The Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board issued the following statement regarding President Joseph Biden’s nomination of Dr. Patricia Lee as a member of the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board:

“The Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board welcomes President Biden’s nomination of Dr. Patricia Lee to serve on the Board. Her expertise with defense nuclear facilities will be a great addition to the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board. .

Dr. Lee has an extensive career that spans over three decades working at Savannah River National Laboratory and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Dr. Lee has served on a variety of technical, non-technical, and community affiliated boards, and she holds a Ph.D. in Nuclear Engineering/Health Physics and M.S. in Health Physics from the Georgia Institute of Technology, a M.S. in Physics from Clark Atlanta University, and a B.S. in Physics from Lincoln University. The Board looks forward to additional nominations to reach a full contingent of five Board Members in the future.”
